

When You Invite Poet, Performer, and Educator,
Treasure Shields Redmond to Deliver Her Presentation, “Chop: 30 Kwansabas for Fannie Lou Hamer,” you will be . . .

MOVED

To action and to become engaged with your community’s hidden jewels, because Fannie Lou Hamer was one such undiscovered gem.

INFORMED

About Mississippi’s proto-womanist Black activist/organizer, Fannie Lou Hamer and the African American community’s history of resistance.

ENTERTAINED

By the stirring spirituals, gospels, and freedom songs that Treasure sings.

CHALLENGED

To do more. Be more. Serve more.

Mississippi native, Treasure Shields Redmond is a St. Louis metro-area based poet, speaker, diversity and inclusion coach, and social justice educator. Her book, CHOP (www.femininepronoun.com) focuses on the life of civil rights icon Fannie Lou Hamer. Over a twenty year educational career, Treasure has facilitated dialogues about poetry, pedagogy, & Justice. Combining her gifts (writing, coaching, and presenting) with her passion (diversity and inclusion) Treasure is able to lead strategic plan writing and facilitate dialogues about race, class, gender, and ability. Treasure writes about issues of social justice on her blog at www.femininepronoun.com.
